The first floor of the 3 story 2 bay house has been converted into a shop. Located in mid-block, it is built of brick which is painted, and has a flat roof.

The shop windows is located to the left, and has one large panel on the street and a narrow, angled portion forming one of the walls of the entrance recess. The base of the window and a wide fascia, ornamented with a painted U.S. flag are of painted vertical boards. The wood and glass panel door, on the right, is topped by a transom.

The upper floor windows are one-over-one double hung, whose stone lintels are miniature entablatures. The sills of the tall second floor windows are hidden by the shop fascia, but those on the 3rd floor appears to be of stone. There is a dentiled cornice with deep scrolled and brackets.
